Somali Population Must be Wary of Illegitimate Organisations Such as UNPOS

The opening of UN Political Office for Somalia (UNPOS) base in Mogadishu signals a renewed Western attempt to further destabilise the Somali nation. Since its establishment, UNPOS, and its numerous contractors, have persistently continued to act as an impediment to the attainment of lasting peace and stability in the country.

Through implementation of policies and so-called roadmaps unfavourable to the needs of the wider population, UNPOS's approach to Somalia is not to advance peace and reconciliation, as alleged, but to foment dissent and ill-will among the local tribes, thereby keeping the Somali state in a perpetual cycle of conflict and disharmony.

In its attempts to further fragment the homogeneous Somali society, UNPOS has been obsessively mobilising local clans against the establishment of Islamic Shari'ah in the country and actively financing different groups in order to revive the old hostilities engendered by tribal fiefdoms across Somalia. The misguided political guidelines endorsed by UNPOS are not only destructive to the sovereignty of the Somali nation but also disparaging to the dignity and the very existence of the people of Somalia as a whole.

Harakat Al-Shabaab Al-Mujahideen's Office for Supervising the Affairs of Foreign Agencies (OSAFA), which has previously closed down UNPOS offices in the regions governed by the Mujahideen, hereby warns the Somali population not to be deceived by the obscure terminology and the clandestine initiatives presented by such organisations. OSAFA also encourages the Muslims of Somalia to take all necessary precaution to distance themselves away from organisations that seek to further exacerbate the political upheaval in the country.
